

For Heather Treblinka

'Klostermayer ordered another count of the children. Then their stars were snipped off and thrown into the center of the courtyard. It looked like a field of buttercups.'

-From 'A Field Of Buttercups' by Joseph Hymans

♩=80

mp dolce

Fall - ing stars a field of but - ter

mp

Ped. Simile (except where otherwise notated)

8

mp pp like an echo

cups. Yel-low stars fall - ing fall - ing.

mf desperate gliss. p

The pris-on-ers the chil-dren fall-ing in heaps on one an - oth-er they go

mf dolce 8va

sf Ped.

20 mp down Than³at-os show-ers his dir-ty breath they must breath him in they see stars be-hind their eyes. p possible

25 mp Dav - id's Dav-id's 'a field of but - ter-cups' a met-a-

32 phor where all that's left lies down. lies

Ossia p pp Fine down. lies down. lies down. Fine lies down. lies down. Fine